

Programmer Analyst

Lincoln Christian University is searching for a full-time Programmer Analyst.

Applicants need:

- Commitment to the mission and vision of Lincoln Christian University
- Strong work ethic and ability to work well in a team environment
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills (verbal and written)
- Identify, troubleshoot, and resolve a wide range of technical application-related problems
- Ability to develop software based on the description of business logic
- Work and produce required results with team collaboration
- Ability to deliver technical customer support over the phone or in-person
- Ability to master new computer technology
- Ability to maintain cooperative working relationships
- Strong problem solving and planning skills
- Ability to multi-task with minimum supervision
- High confidentiality abilities
- Bachelor degree in Information Technology or related field preferred
- Two or more years of proven experience in application or web development, preferably with an emphasis in the listed software development tools and languages
- Ability to advise employees on appropriate use of programs and applications
- Understanding of various and new technology Web applications
- Understanding of the Software Development Life Cycle (SLDC)
- Experience using Linux and maintaining Apache, MySQL and PHP
- Effective understanding of website information organization and navigation design
- Experience working with content management systems and ability to determine appropriate systems for client needs
- Knowledge of Microsoft Server and Desktop OS's, Office products, and development tools
- Strong computer skills with HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, PHP, MySQL, MSSQL, WordPress, ASP, ASP.Net, and ActiveX Controls
- Specific vision abilities required by this job include close vision and depth perception, and the ability to adjust focus

The Programmer Analyst serves as an important member of the Campus Technology Department. Under general supervision, the Programmer Analyst will manage the technical aspect of the Lincoln Christian University internal and external website(s), applications, and databases. This position will work closely with the University Enrollment and Marketing teams to ensure a reliable, strong, and accurate external web presence. This position will work closely with other staff to design, develop, test, and implement new systems, applications programs, and enhancements; resolve programming problems and determine appropriate solutions; design and analyze application systems; prepare system diagrams and logic representations; research available tools and technologies to provide innovative solutions to application problems; work with and provide technical expertise to client users in applications design and programming. This position may provide technical review of the work of others. The Programmer Analyst will participate in logical database design; may coordinate changes to database architecture and data dictionary; participate in ensuring security; participate in establishing and maintaining system standards; may include Database Administration; may provide technical assistance on database management systems to clients and Application Development personnel. This full-time position is scheduled to work 40 hours per week. The Programmer Analyst reports directly to the Director of Campus Technology, and abides by the expectations and responsibilities listed in the job description. For a full job description, go to <https://www.lincolncristian.edu/employees/opportunities.php>.

Applicants should be prepared to respond to the University's mission, core values, and statement of faith (available at www.lincolncristian.edu/about-us/#mission). Submit cover letter, resume, and references to Mrs.

Marla Bennett, Director of Human Resources, by email at hr@lincolnchristian.edu. Submissions will be accepted until July 24, 2017 or until position is filled.

Lincoln Christian University was founded in the heart of Illinois in 1944. Today, more than 1,000 students pursue their undergraduate, seminary, and adult and graduate studies education at our main campus, extension sites, and online. Our alumni have served across the United States and in more than 160 countries. LCU gives its students the knowledge, skills, and Biblical worldview to live their mission in the church, the workplace, and the world. LCU offers a variety of majors and degrees ranging from professional two-year associate degrees to the Doctor of Ministry. The school is historically associated with the Christian Church/Church of Christ, or Restoration (Stone-Campbell) Movement. Additional information about Lincoln Christian University is available at www.lincolnchristian.edu.

Lincoln Christian University does not unlawfully discriminate in employment practices on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, age, gender, disability, or prior military service. Lincoln Christian University encourages applicants who will contribute to the cultural diversity of the University to apply and to identify themselves if they wish. Federal guidelines clearly recognize the right of church-related institutions to seek personnel who will support the goals of the institution, including the right to select members of the church to which the institution is related.