Pinehaven is a 110 acre “kid’n cattle” ranch that cares for children who are in need of alternative living situations. Kids of all ages up through high school come from all over the United States. Typically, the child is getting away from a broken home, defiant, under-motivated in school, or running with the wrong crowd. Pinehaven provides a safe environment free from the dangers and temptations that were previously dragging them down. Our group will serve in a variety of ways: spending time with the students & staff, manual labor around the ranch, rounding up cattle & horses, chopping wood, butchering, assisting in the classroom, and construction.
